SUMMER IDYLL — The warmth of sunlight filtering through leafy trees, a country road and the dogs. What a day to be young? It seems as though you could walk forever along that dusty, rutted road, your pups romping at your heels, smelling out delicious new smells, chasing leaves and retrieving twigs.

And the flush of life is almost painful as youth impels you along the road. And the question arises, "Have I taken the right road? Which is the road to adventure, the high road or the low road? No matter, take the low road, it's as good as any."

Correction

In the Pine Cone of Feb. 26 a typographical error gave the date of the Sewer Bond election as March 14. Should have read March 24. Obviously wrong, because Americans traditionally vote on Tuesday, and March 14 is a Saturday.

We urge, however, that everyone turn out for the bond election and vote "Yes," despite what most experts feel is an inadequate amount (1 1/2 million) to properly handle Carmel and Pebble Beach sewage and end pollution in the waters off the two communities.

So vote on March 24 instead of March 14.

And vote "Yes."

The Candidates

First, I should like to thank Editor Brown for his community spirit in making available this space weekly to Carmel Council candidates.

Although I was not privileged to live here during my professional career in forestry and personnel work in the U.S. and abroad, I heard of Carmel many times. My service with the U.S. Forest Service took me to nearly all 50 states, and I spent eight years as Personnel Director for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations with headquarters in Rome, Italy.

There the employees were of 65 different nationalities from 115 member nations and even among them a surprising number spoke glowingly of Carmel's unspoiled beauty, lovely ocean beaches, trees in the center of streets, and friendly shopkeepers. They were impressed by the homes and gardens which they found to be individualistic and reflecting the artistic tastes of its well-traveled residents.

Mrs. Anderson and I became attached to Carmel when on visits to our daughter and son-in-law, Kathy and Gerry Davis, who had already decided the Monterey Peninsula was the most desirable place to live.

On our visits we also felt very close to the Spanish cultural and historical background of the Monterey Peninsula because of our many trips to Spain. A visit to Petra, Mallorca in 1962 again brought Carmel to our attention through its devotion to Fra Junipero Serra, who was born in Carmel and is buried in Carmel.

In the next issue I will try to tell you something about my civic experience in Carmel.

Carmel

Do you believe — as the 40-year-old city zoning-law preamble says — that Carmel should be "primarily, essentially, and predominantly a residential community?" I do. And my 1958 proposal, after its adoption by the City Council, set the first bounds against the then mushrooming spread of motels.

Do you believe the hordes of daytime visitors who contribute nothing to Carmel's upkeep, but who use the city and its beach as recreational areas, should pay something for the privilege? I do. And I have frequently though unsuccessfully proposed a definite means to require them to contribute. I want to try again.

Do you realize that taxpayers in the City of Carmel, unlike those in Monterey and Pacific Grove, are still continuing to pay county library tax in addition to a high city library tax? This will continue until the City Council stops it. This year that county tax is taking $16,000 out of city taxpayer's pockets. I have tried to terminate this tax many times without success. I want to try again.

Do you want to hold down routine city operating expenses, not only to relieve heavily burdened property taxpayers but also to leave some modest sums to maintain and advance Carmel's special cultural heritage? I do. And I want to try again, hoping the next time for needed citizen support. Meanwhile Carmel has neither a city museum (though one is now offered), nor any specific program to advance its own magnificent cultural heritage, though both are urgently needed.

In short, I want to help keep Carmel the wonderful place it has become, both as a treasured work of nature and as an unparalleled work of man.

Gunnar Norberg

As a candidate for a council seat, I want to state that my experience in city government, first as a building inspector, then as an administrator of planning and development, and as acting city manager on occasion as well as 20 years as a businessman provides me with invaluable insight into the efficient and economical operations of the city. As a city administrator, I have worked with many agencies of State and County governments as well as school and sanitary districts.

I believe that all council policies and decisions should be aired openly and directly with full disclosure of all facts and plans before it, and ways should be found to improve communications between city hall and the citizenry. The council should not just be a fulcrum for special interest groups. We must reach out and bring the issues to all potentially affected persons. The council's investigation should continue until every last speaker who wants to be heard has had his say, then let legislation be enacted in a rational, responsible environment; legislation that reflects the philosophy that Carmel-by-the-Sea is primarily and essentially a residential community.

As a councilman standing on the above beliefs, I will endeavor to relieve the increasing frustration among our citizens who find they are helpless in a city filled with ever-increasing pressures for change. I would hope through my election to the council that ordinarily less vocal citizens might be more fully represented even though they cannot personally spare the time and expense of attending endless rounds of public meetings.

Carmel Heart Fund at $4,000

The Carmel Heart Fund drive, directed by Mrs. Gerry Reeves, has to date collected more than $4,000.

Mrs. Reeves, who was appointed to the drive well after it begun, set for herself a goal of $5,000 and the money so far collected, while short of her goal, is gratifying.

"There are still a number of kits that have not been turned in," Mrs. Reeves said, "and the Bank of America in Carmel will continue to accept Heart Fund Kits until they have all been turned in."

"I want to extend my warmest and sincere thanks to every one of the volunteers who helped with the campaign in Carmel."

Varied agenda occupies City Council meet

By Jim Warne

At the last city council meeting held March 4, Mrs. Anne Boone of Junipero Avenue submitted a petition to the council.

The petition was in protest of the cutting of trees at Forest Hill Park. The decision to cut the trees was made four years ago but no actual cutting and thinning out of the area occurred until recently.

Mrs. Boone and the supporters of the petition feel that this decision must be re-evaluated because of the time lapse. Council will reconsider the matter and an inspection of the site will be made on the next tree tour, scheduled for April 7.

After considering the parking-traffic committee's recommendation the council established the following new parking zones: two yellow truck-leading zones on the north side of 5th avenue between Dolores and San Carlos Streets. After 12 p.m. daily the yellow zones will be open for 10 minute parking.

The council considered painting the names of streets on the curbs in the business district. After weighing the alternatives and suggestions made by the traffic-parking committee, the council sent the recommendation back to committee for further investigation.

The council approved the first reading of an ordinance providing for the limited display of merchandise in the commercial district. Certain restrictions have been made as to the kind of merchandise that may be displayed in a specific area on private property.

A motion was put forward to purchase two Bicentennial flags at the cost of $20.00 each. The flags will be flown in Devendorf Park and the civic center.

The council approved a request to replace the obsolete radio equipment at the police station. The present equipment is 17 years old and the cost of replacing it will be $1,500.

A request for a cooperative project of repaving an area of sidewalk in front of the Swiss Jeweler's was approved. The city usually pays the cost of repairing tree damaged sidewalks but the damage was not entirely the result of tree roots. The owner stated that he would finance the entire project.

The first reading of the on-street parking ordinance was approved by the council. This ordinance would make unlawful for service stations operations to park customer's vehicles in violation of city laws.

Council passed a resolution effective Feb. 17, employing Robert G. Stratton and Peter E. Urrea as Carmel police officers.

Fowlston as Mary, mother of Christ, and Gertrude Chappel as her sister-in-law, Mar Cleophas.

The production is under the direction of Michael Keller.

"Family Portrait" is the reverent story of a woman who was the mother of Jesus. It's a play of biblical characters, although the dialogue is not spoken in the phraseology of the Bible. The writing elaborates in the terms of an ordinary family, which acts and speaks as we do today.

The recounting of Mary's life, amid her family and neighbors during the last three years of Christ's life, is told in the terms of the hopes, dreams, joys and sorrows of a mother for her child.

Jesus does not appear. It is a play of His influence reflected in a group of people who are a diversified lot. Only Mary has faith in Jesus. Her family resent Him as fanatic and a radical who hurts their business, their marriage prospects and the family name.

Mary timidly journeys to Capernaum and hears the crowds speak admiringly of her son's teachings. As the months wear on she grows more anxious. The fickle crowd has turned from its cries of Hosannah to shouts of hatred.

Finally, on the day that is now known as a Holy Thursday, Mary arrives in Jerusalem, and there with Mary Magdalen, in the upper room after the Last Supper, awaits Jesus's return from Gethsemane.

The final scene is laid in Nazareth several years after the crucifixion where all except Mary, still labors under the selfish and blind delusion that they have been disgraced. Christ's teachings continue to be taught by his disciples, and Mary's only hope now is that her Son will not be forgotten.

Move to Sunset by Post Office approved

The Post Office Department in Washington, D.C. has approved the move of the Carmel Post Office from its present location into a building to be constructed at Sunset Center on the site of the present softball diamond and parking area.

The announcement was made Monday by Congressman Bert Talcott (R-Salinas) in Washington.

So far, only a verbal agreement has been made on the site, but officials of the Post Office Department in San Francisco will be in Carmel on Tuesday to begin negotiations for the lease and other contracts.

According to Talcott, architects in the Postal Division will design the building to be built, but only after consultation with local officials to make certain that building designs will conform to the aesthetics of the area and the other buildings of Sunset Center.

As plans now stand, the federal government will lease the site from the City of Carmel, and private contractors will construct and lease the building from the government.

EDITORIAL --

Is Democracy Burning?

Note: The Pine Cone feels the Bank of America has something to say in regard to the destruction by fire of its branch building in Isla Vista. Such acts of violence and vandalism are alien to the concepts of democracy and the precepts upon which the United States was founded. We are happy to offer our columns to this excellent editorial.

Isla Vista, California, population 11,250.

The business district consists of couple of gas stations, a few small shops, some real estate offices... and a bank. A large campus of the University of California is nearby. All in all, a normal American suburban community — perhaps very much like the one you live or work in. Normal, that is, until Wednesday, February 25, when violence shattered the peaceful calm of Isla Vista.

At about 8:30 p.m. on the night of Feb. 25, rampaging demonstrators — students and non-students — protesting the "capitalist establishment" converged on the community's small business district.

Several protestors rolled a gasoline — soaked trash bin through a smashed front door in a Bank of America branch and set it ablaze. Other students extinguished the fire.

But just before midnight, with the angry crowd in a frenzy, the branch was set ablaze again. While police and fire officials were held at bay by a rock-throwing mob, the bank was gutted by fire and totally destroyed. A police patrol car was overturned and burned. Numerous other fires were started. Windows were smashed and life and property threatened.

These events took place in a community called Isla Vista. They could have happened in any community. They can happen anywhere and with even more disastrous results. Why did the eruption in Isla Vista take place?

Participants in the violence say it was a protest against the "capitalist establishment," "the war in Vietnam," "the Chicago trial," "student repression," "police brutality," and a list of other grievances against America in 1970.

Some of these grievances are real, some are fanciful and others are false. But all deserve to be aired. To the degree that they are not aired, are not taken seriously, Americans break faith with their young.

But all Americans, young and old, liberal and conservative, lose by violence. Violence and destruction are the seeds of anarchy and tyranny — whether it be the tyranny of the extreme right or the extreme left.

We believe the time has come for Americans to unite in one cause: a rejection, total and complete, of violence as a means of political dissent.

All of us, young and old, liberal or conservative, have too long been silent on the issue of violence. We have been afraid of labels or slogans that would brand us as either arch conservatives or traitors to a liberal cause.

Let us, as a nation, find once again our ability to distinguish between protest and revolt; between dissent and chaos; between demonstration and destruction; between non-violence and violence.

Let us cease to condemn those who disagree with us, but let us also be prompt and resolute in putting an end to violence in our land.

To this end we applaud the courageous response of many dedicated public officials. They deserve the cooperation of all citizens. They will have ours.

Every American has a right to walk the streets in safety. No polemic should be allowed to obscure this right. Your wife or husband,

'Shari's' becomes 'Cachet'

Shari's, one of Carmel's fine women's fashion shops, is sporting a new name on the door and a completely redecorated interior.

Now named "Cachet," the store, located on Dolores between Ocean and Seventh, has been purchased by Mrs. Katina Economos, who will feature clothes for women of all ages. Dresses, costumes, suits and coats will be stocked, with prices in the "moderate" range.

The new owner was a buyer for Roos/Atkins for 24 years, where she eventually purchased all women's apparel for the son or daughter ought to be safe in visiting the supermarket, a filling station or a bank — regardless of whether another may choose to reject that institution as an onerous symbol.

It is for these reasons that we plan to re-open our Isla Vista branch on Monday, March 9. We realize that there is a danger in this course of action. But we believe the greater danger to ourselves and to all of the people of this nation is to be intimidated by mob violence. We refuse to be so intimidated.

Is the branch worth this much? In monetary terms, the answer is no. It is not, and never has been particularly profitable. But it is there to serve the banking needs of the community and we refuse to be driven out of any community by a violent few.

Is this a bad business decision? Perhaps in a narrow sense it is. But we believe that at some time in some place Americans must decide whether they intend to have their decisions, indeed their lives, ruled by a violent minority.

We are but one bank, but we have decided to take our stand in Isla Vista.

BANK OF AMERICA

organization's 30 stores. Later, she was for a time with Grodin's, also in the Bay Area, where she merchandised and bought women's fashions and accessories.

Longtime visitors to the Carmel area, Katina Economos and her husband Peter are currently building a house in Carmel Valley.

Both enjoy good cuisine, and her hobby is making the traditional dishes of their Greek heritage as well as those of France. Mr. Economos will commute until he winds up his investment business in San Francisco.

'Gospel According to St. Matthew' in benefit performance at Village Theater

Acclaimed one of the greatest films of all times "The Gospel According to St. Matthew" will be shown at the Carmel Village Theater on March 22, 23, and 24, with proceeds going to support the Carmel Museum of Art.

Directed by Italy's Pier Paolo Pasolini, the film has received rave reviews throughout the world.

Because he wanted to avoid the cliches that ordinarily haunt religious films, Pasolini deliberately chose actors who were completely unknown, or who had never acted before. He chose a 24-year-old Spanish student, Enrique Irazoqui, for the part of Christ. The selection was made the first time Pasolini saw Irazoqui because of the latter's uncanny resemblance to the Christ portrait in El Greco's painting.

For the older Mary, who would suffer during the hours of Passion, Pasolini chose his own mother. For the young Mary, a student in Rome was chosen. An Italian music critic and photographer is St. Matthew. Writers also portray Mary of Bethany, Herod II and John the Baptist. A lawyer portrays Joseph. A Roman truck driver is Judas.

What sets "The Gospel According to St. Matthew" apart from other religious films of this nature is the style which Pasolini chose. First, he limited himself exclusively to the account by Matthew — only the words written by the Saint are used, no additional dialogue was written.

Second, only scenes depicted by Matthew are shown. For example, the miracles of Christ mentioned by the other apostles are not in the film, unless they were also mentioned by Matthew.

Tickets for the showing are on sale at the Carmel Museum of Art, on Dolores between Ocean and 7th. It is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Special rates for teachers and civic groups, classes and other groups may be obtained by calling the Museum at 624-1424, 624-5342 or 624-4226.

Librarian's Notebook

This week the first book on the list is Last On the Menu by Sister Eleanor Quin. This is the autobiographical account of how Sister Eleanor became a nun, and what happened after that. She has a delightful sense of humor to go along with her red hair. Toward the end she has a few short paragraph-chapters on several subjects and her comments are vigorous and contemporary.

In her discussion of life in a convent, the reader is often reminded of the last novel of Rumer Godden entitled In This House of Brede. One fiction and the other non-fiction, both fascinating.

John and Regina Hicks did the photographs for Human Socialization by Elton McNeil. The book is part of a series called Core Books in Psychology. You really should read at least part of the text and not just look at the pictures, even though in the pictures you may see your next door neighbor or one of the characters you always meet on your way to the post office. Good pictures and a credit to Carmel.

In 1904, Hermann Hesse wrote a novel called Peter Camenzind. Only recently it was translated into English and published in this country. It is a small book which will delight admirers of Hesse. The author says that all his books are biographies of souls and this one is no exception.

You may remember a series of conversational cookbooks by Euell Gibbons, the first of which was called Stalking the Wild Asparagus. You do? Author Gibbons has a new one entitled Feast On a Diabetic Diet. It is the same type of book. Walking and talking about what the diabetic may eat and where to find it. And some conclusions are a little revolutionary from a dietetic standpoint.

And while we are loitering among the doctors, we have a new book entitled Your Heart and How To Live With It by Doctor Lawrence Lamb. He begins "Have you ever wondered how you will die? If you are an American, there is a greater than 50 percent chance that you will die of a circulatory disease—a disease of the heart or blood-vessels." And he goes on from there.

Finally, take a look at Irish Art by Françoise Henry, a beautiful book with color illustrations lovely enough to please all the Irish ever born. Many of the illustrations are of early illuminated manuscripts such as the Book of Kells and the Book of Lindisfarne. Lovely.

An even more finally, we have Cheyenne Memories by John Stands in Timber. This is a history of the Cheyennes, by one of their own people. It is also a collection of Cheyenne folk tales.

Many more books. Do come in and look . . . and borrow. Peace.

'The Creation' at NPS

The Monterey Peninsula Choral Society and the Monterey County Symphony will perform the Easter season concert in King Hall.

The Music Scene

by Rachel Morton

A large audience in the Little Theater of Monterey Peninsula College heard a fine concert Thursday evening when the College Community Services presented the Prokofiev Quartet consisting of Linda Guberman, violin; Ludmila Granova, violin; Galina Obinez, viola; and Kira Svetkova, cello.

According to the program notes, the Prokofiev Quartet was founded in 1956 by four young ladies, all graduates of the Moscow Conservatory. Their first gold medal was won in 1957 at a quartet competition in Moscow and another first prize was won at the International Competition held in Hungary in 1959. They have toured throughout the USSR, Rumania, Bulgaria and East Germany with such success that their government bestowed upon them the name of one of Russia's greatest composers, Prokofiev.

These young women identically dressed most attractively in long white gowns, brocaded in silver thread made an impressive appearance, but even more impressive was their playing. In a program which included the Quartet in G Major, KV 387 by Mozart, Quartet No. 2 in F Major, Opus 92 by Prokofiev and Quartet in E Minor, Opus 30, No. 3 by Tchaikovsky, the ensemble displayed a unique oneness-of-purpose, rare artistry and skilled musicianship. There was discipline in their performance and there was also beautiful blending of tone. Their playing had the virility of men and the sensitivity of women—some combination! Sometimes in big climaxes the effect was almost orchestral.

The Mozart Quartet, which opened the program, was given a meticulous performance. The cellist distinguished herself in elaborate filigree fingering and in warm, sonorous tonex quality. She and the first violinist rather overshadowed the two inner parts in this number.

It was in the powerful music of the Prokofiev that one came to know the virtuosity and strength of this ensemble. Full of clamor was the declamative music of the Allegro Sostenuto—almost brutish at times. In the opening bars the first violin showed authority and commendable leadership. The cello began the lovely Adagio in rich, mellow tone and dominated thereafter. The Allegro Andante Molto was played with rapier-like thrusts.

But the heart-warming music was in the Tchaikovsky quartet. At the beginning there was lullaby-like music played by the first violin, music which became sturdy and entrancing—rhythmically, tonally and emotionally. Here there was marvelous coordination among the players. Measured and dolorous was the Andante as befitted its title, "funereal and sad." There was a plaintive wail of the second violin; the weeping of the viola; the mourning of the cello, while the first violin bound all together in a lilting plaint of sadness.

Get rid of your hang-ups.

Get a dryer.

Wet wash is a hang-up. In more ways than one. It's no fun to pin and unpin 10,000 clothespins a year. It's no fun to tote a couple of thousand pounds of wash 40 miles to and from the clothesline. And a dryer will reduce the need for ironing. PG and E

April 11 set for annual kite festival

Carmel's Annual Kite Festival is being planned for Saturday, April 11.

This traditional event is co-sponsored by the Carmel Lions Club and the Recreation Dept. of the Carmel Unified School District, and will take place at the Carmel Middle School athletic field from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The usual regulations for this contest will apply as follows: each kite must be made by the contestant and must actually get into the air and fly in order to be eligible. Commercial, ready-made kites will be rejected.

Each kite may be entered in one of the four age groups only—8 years and younger; 9 through 12 years; 13 through 15 years; and 16 years and more.

Three prize categories for all age groups will be the same: 1st: Highest Flying Kite; 2nd: Best Workmanship; 3rd: Prettiest Kite.

Another prize category will again be included this year for youngsters 12 yrs. and younger who make their kites without adult assistance.

In addition to these prizes the Willis White Trophy, commemorating the founder, will again be awarded for Best International Design and the Ernest Calley Perpetual Plaque Trophy will be awarded for the Grand Champion Kite—all donated by the Carmel Lions Club.

The kite festival was founded by Rev. Willis White in 1930 and has been held each year since then.

At this meeting, each member of the club will present four color slides on nature subjects from which six will be chosen for entry in the Photographic Society of America nature contest.

Cat Show...

The Green Valley Cat Fanciers Association is holding its annual championship cat show at the Monterey Fairgrounds this weekend, March 14 and 15.

We feel safe in assuming that few of our readers have ever gone to a cat show, while a slightly larger percentage have attended a dog show. If any of you are looking for an interesting family outing for the weekend, why not consider this unique activity?

Before you attend a cat show, it is a good idea to understand what you are going to see as well as why cat and dog shows are held in the first place.

The selective breeding of purebred cats in this country and in Europe is a fairly recent phenomenon. The first Abyssinian cat in the Western world was brought to England from Ethiopia in 1869. The first pair of "pure" Siamese cats was brought to England in 1884 and their descendants first reached America in 1895. So let us say that breeding purebred cats as a hobby is roughly 100 years old.

Of course, many recognized breeds are much younger. The Himalayan was not recognized as a pure breed in this country until 1957; the Havana Brown was first exhibited at a cat show in 1959. And there are even younger breeds.

Men have undertaken to alter, adapt, streamline and improve their animals for profit and pleasure. It is easy to understand the economic advantages of short-legged, squat, extremely heavy beef cattle, small, heavily-pelted sheep or extraordinary egg production in chickens. It is also easy to accept man's need for a hunting hound, a herding dog, a rodent-killing Terrier or a fiercely protective watchdog.

But what about cats? We cannot expect the longhaired, slow-moving, aristocratic Persian to be as efficient a mouser as its shorthaired, longer-legged "alley cat" cousin. The explanation and, indeed, the justification for the "fancy" to be judged in May by the Great Falls Camera Club, Great Falls, Montana.

Visitors are most welcome at the Padre Trails Club meetings.

breeds, be they Himalayan cat, Toy Poodle, or American Saddle Horse (almost strictly a horse show horse), is that they give men pleasure.

All purebred animals are bred to conform to a "Standard of Perfection." These standards are usually devised by well-meaning breeders and are meant to provide a guideline for future breeders to follow. Thus, a cat standard may allow 10 points for color, 20 points for coat, five points for correct eyes, and so on for a "perfect" 100 points. Of course, there has never been a 100 per cent cat or dog. These ideals exist only as the inner vision of the fancier.

At a cat show, cats are entered in classes, separated into Longhair and Shorthair varieties, and within these categories by breed, sex and age. Classes may be divided by color as well.

Ideally, the winning cat in each class should be more closely "ideal" in its breed than the others in its class; in all-breed competition, where Siamese may compete against Abyssinian, Korat, Burmese or any other Shorthair, the winner is selected by virtue of being closer to the ideal of his breed than the other cats are, respectively, to theirs.

At cat shows, cats are kept in cages when they are not being examined by the judge. This is done for the cat's own protection, as most cats are not leash broken. Imagine over a thousand cats running loose!

Cat owners have made the best of the cage situation by making it a custom to decorate the cages, either in a style most flattering to the cat, or in connection with a central theme chosen by the show-giving club. This week's show is dedicated to the famous Los Angeles school mascot, "Room 8."

You may not, at first, be able to understand why people make such a fuss about a special breed of cat. Plain old Puss may be cat enough for you. But to many thousands of people, a win at a championship cat show may be the culmination of years of dedicated, scientifically planned breeding to produce the cat of that shining hour.

BASKETBALL BALLET — Jim Conlan, Carmel High School varsity player resembles a ballet dancer as he shoots from the side of the court in Saturday's game with North Salinas High. Conlan was the high scorer for the Padres with 14 points in a losing cause.

FAST DRIBBLE — Carmel High School basketball star Jeff Canepa dribbles around a North Salinas High School during the finals of the Carmel Invitational basketball tournament held last weekend. Carmel defeated Monterey High in the semi-finals, 58-56, but lost to the Vikings 81-53 for the championship. Canepa was the star for the Padres.

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITOR — Robert Grabowski, Monterey Peninsula jewelry craftsman whose studio is located on Fisherman's Wharf, has been invited to show eight distinctive creations at the International Light Industries and Handicraft Fair in Munich, Germany. The fair runs from March 14 to 22. Grabowski's training in industrial design and sculpture led him to the formulation of a philosophy of jewelry design which insists on complete integration of materials to the wearer. Grabowski is president of the Fine Arts and Crafts Festival which annually presents "39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" in Carmel. He and Alice Shannon, another craftsman of "39 Craftsmen" were selected to represent the United States in the Munich show. He will send a selection of rings and pins to the fair.

CLINT EASTWOOD BASH — Pebble Beach tennis pro Don Hamilton, center, and Mr. Sid Forhman, show John Ables a still-vacant seat in the chart of box seats for the Clint Eastwood Celebrity Tennis Tournament to be held July 3, 4 and 5 at the Beach and Tennis Club in Pebble Beach. Co-sponsored by Del Monte Properties and the newly formed Women's Division of the National Council on Alcoholism, all proceeds will go to the council.

Celebrity Tennis will benefit National Alcoholism Council

The Clint Eastwood Celebrity Tennis Tournament, co-sponsored by the Del Monte Properties, Inc. and the newly-formed Women's Division of the National Council on Alcoholism, Monterey Peninsula Council, will be held at the Beach and Tennis Club in Pebble Beach the weekend of July 3, 4, and 5.

Well-known personalities and tennis buffs will again converge on the peninsula both as spectators and players in the three-day event so named for the engaging actor who makes his home in this area. Clint Eastwood is an active participant in and supporter of this star-studded contest.

Invitations to players have been issued and tickets for reserved boxes and unreserved bleacher seating are now on sale. Box holders from last year will be given first consideration in the purchase of box seating.

All the action will not be confined to the courts, however. Setting the social pace will be a Friday night

Champagne Party to be held at the Beach Club. About 150 will attend a gala dinner at the Del Monte Lodge on Saturday night followed by a Sunday morning Fizz Party at the courts. Tickets for these events are also available.

The local Women's Division for the NCA, under the direction of Mrs. Sidney (Ginny) Frohman, will focus its fund-raising efforts on making the initial association with the celebrity tennis tournament a smashing success.

Additional activities to be instigated are a series of pyramid luncheons, the first of which was launched by Mrs. Frank Cortwright at her Pebble Beach home last week and a silent auction to be given in May.

Alcoholism, as a national health problem has received too little attention, says Mrs. Frohman, and funds raised will be directed toward support of programs to aid in the recovery of alcoholics and to inform and enlighten an apathetic public of the pressing need to deal with this disease.

BSA Recognition Dinner Mar. 16

Keynote speaker at the Peninsula District Boy Scouts of America Recognition dinner at Fort Ord's Stilwell Hall on March 16 will be Ralph H. Head of Los Angeles.

He served for two years as president of the San Fernando Valley Boy Scout Council and holds the Silver Beaver award.

Head is president of the Pierce National Life Insurance Company. He has served as both president and secretary of the Toluca Lake Rotary Club; served as president of the Los Angeles Midnight Mission; past president of the California Masonic Memorial Temple association in San Francisco, and is a member of the board of trustees, Masonic Homes of California.

The Recognition dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. Approximately 500 persons are expected to attend, including cubmaster, scoutmasters, advisors and unit committeemen from Carmel, Marina, Fort Ord, Seaside, Pacific Grove, Monterey, Del Rey Oaks and Carmel Valley. Awards will be presented to outstanding Scout leaders.

Don Ostergard, chairman of the Peninsula District committee, will preside.

Wittenberg Choir at Sunset

Wittenberg University's 75-voice choir will present a concert March 25 at 8 p.m. in the Sunset Auditorium, Carmel.

The choir's Carmel concert will be presented during spring tours of cities in Indiana, Ohio and California.

Wittenberg's choir, conducted by Dr. L. David Miller, dean of the Wittenberg School of Music, has been featured for 14 straight years on the Protestant Hour radio series, which is carried throughout the world by more than 500

North American radio stations.

The choir is one of the first coeducational music groups ever to make a world concert tour. Since 1961, the group has visited Europe twice, South America once, and circled the globe in 1966.

The much-traveled choir has sung in eight of the world's 10 largest cities — Tokyo, New York City, London, Paris, Osaka, Chicago, Buenos Aires, and Sao Paulo. That leaves only two for the world's Big 10 — Shanghai and Moscow.

"AMONG THE GREAT MOVIES OF ALL TIME."

There is an intellectual and dramatic excitement of this film that I have never felt in any treatment of its subject in any medium. Brilliant duel between the Establishment and a challenger it is quite right for them to fear.."

St. Matthew

St. Matthew, one of the 12 Apostles, is the author of the first Gospel, and was called to be an apostle while sitting at the tax-collector's place in Capharnum.

His apostolic activity was at first restricted to the communities of Palestine. Nothing definite is known about his later life. Neither is it known whether he died a natural death or was martyred.

Writing for his countrymen of Palestine, St. Matthew composed his Gospel in his native Aramaic, the "Hebrew tongue" mentioned in the Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles. But the actual time of its writing is not certain. Soon after he wrote — at the time of the persecution of Herod Agrippa in 42 A.D. — Matthew left Palestine, is one belief. Another has him writing it between his departure and the Council of Jerusalem, which would be between 42 and 50 A.D., or perhaps later.

But what is definite is that it was written before 70 A.D., when Jerusalem was destroyed by the Romans, for in his Gospel, Matthew has the Holy City still standing, with Christ's prophecy as yet unfilled.

Movie Reviews

Paint Your Wagon - A lusty, brawling, sprawling musical set in a mining camp during the California Gold Rush days. Lee Marvin and Clint Eastwood share their gold claim and a wife, Jean Seberg, in perfect amity. Great surprise ending. At Cinema 70 in Del Monte Shopping Center.

Battle of Britain - Full of stars, this film depicts the 16-week aerial battle that turned out to be one of the most crucial military conflicts in history. Michael Caine, Trevor Howard, Harry Andrews, Curt Jurgens and Sir Lawrence Olivier. Valley Cinema.

The Magic Christian - Comedian Peter Sellers, Beatle Ringo Starr and sex symbol Raquel Welch in a mod comedy about a multi-millionaire, his adopted son and a priestess for 100 girl galley slave rowers - topless. At the Golden Bough.

Downhill Racer - This is a well-done story about an Olympic skier combining brilliant documentary footage and a terse, intense performance by Robert Redford as the skier. As tightly packed as the ski slopes. At the Village.

Topaz - The Old Master of suspense, Alfred Hitchcock, directed this film, his first in three years. Terror and espionage are featured, based on the novel by Leon Uris. Some of the scenes are based on fact, particularly those of the Cuban Missile crisis. At the Steinbeck.

Sweet Body of Deborah - Not much on this, but it apparently a murder mystery with an out-and-out "X" rating, employing explicit sex scenes to generate interest in the flick. At the Marina Automovie.

Fanny Hill - Diana Kjaer, who goes big in Sweden, is cast in the title role of John Cleland's novel. The setting has moved to Sweden, but some heavy-handed directing has ruined the lighthearted possibilities of the novel. At the Hill.

Daddy's Gone A-Hunting - Carole White loves Paul Burke. She is a new mother, he's a maniac. She wants a normal life, he wants her to support him. She has an abortion, marries a "good" guy, and has a baby. Then the maniac shows up again. At the State.

Ice Station Zebra - Nuclear sub captain Rock Hudson transports British intelligence officer Patrick McGoonan to a North Pole weather station, with all kinds of sabotage on the way and an exciting, suspenseful climax. At the Grove.

The Libertine - Catherine Spaak undresses and undresses and undresses in this sex film that also stars Jean-Louis Trintignant and Philippe Leroy. If you want to see Catherine take her clothes off, don't miss it. At the Marina Automovie.

They Shoot Horses, Don't They? - Nominated for nine Academy Awards, this is Jane Fonda's best effort to date. She's a bitter girl trying to win a marathon dance contest. A superb motion picture. At the Regency.

The Dunwich Horror - The theory of demonic conception has been a favorite subject of writers of horror stories for a hundred years. H.P. Lovecraft wrote this novel, American-International produced the picture, and Sandra Dee, Dean Stockwell and Ed Begley star. At the State.

Stage Review

"The Crucible," a story of witchcraft and hysteria in 17th century Salem is playing to packed houses Friday through Sunday nights at the Circle.

As John Proctor, an innocent victim of the witch trials observes, "little crazy children are jangling the keys of the kingdom."

Stirring performances are given by each member of the large cast. You'll need reservations for this one. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Sat., and 7:30 on Sunday. Phone 624-2669.

The Seven Year Itch - The Studio Theater-Restaurant serves a delicious dinner, then offers this hilarious comedy by George Axelrod to improve your digestion. Directed by Bill Asp, the play features Dick Vreeland and Alena Johnston star, ably supported by a cast of nine other accomplished actors and actresses. The situation is funny, the play is funny, and the production is hilarious. Weekends. Dinner at 7:30, curtain at 8:30 on Friday and Saturday, Sunday, everything one hour earlier. Call 624-1661 or 2321.

Dining Out at.... Le Coq D'Or

...with Virjy Sheplley

There is a small French restaurant in Carmel tucked away between 4th and 5th on Mission Street. It consists of one room with scenes of Paris painted on the walls.

The cuisine is French with a Swiss accent, as the team of husband (chef Louis) and wife (hostess Clary) are natives of French Switzerland. There is no bar as is true of the other French cafes in Carmel. The wine list has wide variety from Europe and California but we were surprised that our bottle of Bordeaux, Medoc, Armand Roux, was not uncorked at the table as is customary if not mandatory.

Three of us went together so that each could choose a different entree, giving would-be diners a wider range of praise or criticism. Chicken seems to be the specialty at Le Coq d'Or to live up to its name of the Golden Cock.

Your cafe critic perused the long menu and discarded the idea of chicken. We'd been surfeited with poultry during the past week at home. Our friends chose Poulet a la Creme, chicken in a casserole with a rich cream sauce and fresh mushrooms, flavored with Madeira which they quickly ordered as it takes 25 min. before serving. The catch there was that this dish is not served for less than two orders in one casserole at $4.75 per person. There went the wide range of choice, but according to the "que c'est bon" expression of those having selected this house specialty, it indeed must have been suave and delicious and hot in its covered baking dish.

Another difference was that both rice in butter and souffle of potatoes are served with any of the entrees, plus a vegetable which turned out to be the inevitable carrot.

Your reporter decided to go all out and be unfrenchified. Grilled New York Steak no less. This turned out to be a near disaster. While the others were still in a gourmet's dream across the table from "Virjy," she started cutting into a fine looking piece of steak with much anticipation. Not only was it cold but the plate was also!

Having seen so many people make a scene in restaurants and being embarrassed thereby, Virji at first thought she's bravely go on without comment. But then, recalling her role (being of service to Carmel's diner-outers) our escort calmly requested the steak be reheated, the plate also.

Its never the same to send back medium rare meat. It came back warmer, and as a bit of solace, more carrot rounds were added for decor.

There were compensations. The souffle of potatoes were piping hot, since the single portion was in its own baking pot with a cover to keep it hot while waiting for the reheated steak. To make souffle of potatoes, they were first boiled, drained, sieved then mixed with cream, butter, egg yolks and beaten together, the stiffly beaten egg whites added with salt and white pepper at the last and formed into a fluffy mound. Then baked in a hot oven. This is the great specialty of the house of le Coq d' Or. Those at the table next to us remembered it and the Poulet a la Creme from

Mar. 12, 1970

The Carmel Pine Cone Cymbal

15 twelve years ago, we couldn't help but overhear as the tables are very close together. They had returned and were not disapproving.

We'll know better next time to have our New York Steak at a Steak House instead of a Chicken Cafe.

Oh yes, the soupe de jour (shouldn't it be "beautiful soup of the evening" according to Alice in Wonderland?) was indeed such a beautifully smooth cream of watercress soup made with chicken stock, cream, minced watercress and perhaps other greens. It would have been nice to have had a tureen of this blissful soup at the table so we could ladle some more.

The salad was small but drowned in too much dressing. On the menu it said "salade mimosa" but ours was minus mimosa which includes chopped hard cooked eggs sprinkled over the greens. We thought it so French and spring-like to have had the acacia yellow blooming on our salad. But there's plenty right now in our gardens.

We don't like sherry on our steak and the mushrooms were practically non-existent. Another disconcerting discovery is: coffee, Sanka and tea are included in the price of the entree, but milk is 15 cents extra!

Ending on a cheerful note, the sherbet, cake, small slice of cheese with cracker (Ritz) were only 30 cents apiece! Make reservations for Saturday night, the waiting space is stand-up, if those few seats are taken.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

by Raymond MacDonald

Q. My aunt is a Medicare patient in an extended care facility. We want to rent or purchase a wheelchair for her use. Will Medicare pay for it?

A. Not while she is in an extended care facility.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

The Lesson-Sermon read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday is on "Substance," which Mary Baker Eddy defines in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures as follows: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay" (p.468).

One of the Bible verses in the Lesson-Sermon is from Matthew: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

Readings from Science and Health include the following from the Christian Science textbook: "Absorbed in material selfhood we discern and reflect but faintly the substance of Life or Mind."

The public is welcome to attend services at 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. at First Church of Christ Scientist.

Christian Science Radio Program

A program of special interest to parents and teachers titled, "Let's Stop Labeling Young People," will be broadcast next Sunday in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be broadcast on stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45.

Medicare pays for the rental or purchase of durable medical equipment only if it is used in the patient's home. An extended care facility or other institution which provides skilled nursing care is not considered the patient's home. Extended care facilities are expected to supply items such as wheelchairs as a normal part of their service.

Q. Exactly how much does Medicare pay for hospital services during a long period of hospitalization?

A. In each benefit period Medicare pays all covered hospital services except the first $52 (deductible) for the first 60 days. For the 61st through 90th day, Medicare pays for all covered services except $13.00 a day. There is also an additional lifetime reserve of 60 days if the beneficiary needs more than 90 days hospital care in the same benefit period. For lifetime reserve days Medicare pays all covered hospital services except $26.00 a day.

Q. How many days of extended care facility will Medicare pay for?

A. One hundred days in each benefit period. For the first 20 days, full payment is made by Medicare for covered services. For the 21st through 100th day, the beneficiary pays $6.50 a day a coinsurance.

"S" for Scandinavia

The pattern of travel is changing rapidly.

The old fashioned way of visiting the greatest number of countries in the shortest possible time is giving place to a more sensible approach.

More and more people want to get to know the countries they visit, enjoy them, and then visit other parts of the world on their next trip.

As a result of this new and more sensible philosophy, more and more people are using their entire trip of 21 days or longer on Scandinavia only, because Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden offer such a wealth of sight, such a variety of attractions, that a trip through these countries cannot be beaten anywhere.

To make it as easy and effective as possible, the brand new group of tours under the common denomination THE S-TOUR is being presented to the American public, and is certain already beforehand to be met with great success.

The S-Tours of Scandinavia

You can start the tours from both gateways, Bergen or Copenhagen, — but let's start at Bergen and take you along the S-route of Scandinavia from this capital of Norway's world famous Fjord Country.

From Bergen the S-tours go through stunning scenery of fjords and mountains to the Norwegian capital of Oslo — the new city of the Arts. Popular excursions can be made by air from Oslo to the midnight sun in the far north, or by bus or boat to Norway's sunny South Coast.

From Oslo our S-tours go straight to Helsinki by air, — others choose the very interesting route through Dalarna, Sweden's folklore district, to Stockholm and from then on the capital of Finland, Helsinki — the sauna city of the north.

Helsinki is the center for excursions through the Easter Lake District, or you can take the comfortable ships of the Silver Line to Tampere, the white industrial city. Also tours to Finland's fascinating Lapland can conveniently be taken from the Finnish capital.

Between Finland and Sweden the boat trips are scenic, taking you through a colorful archipelago practically all the way, right to the heart of Stockholm, Sweden's capital, truly the city on the water.

Two of the most interesting excursions from Stockholm are probably the one to Visby, the medieval city of roses and ruins on the island of Gotland, and the bus and boat tour to Drottningholm Court Theatre, the world's oldest court theatre in use.

There are many possibilities to choose from when traveling from Stockholm to Gothenburg — the center of Sweden's vacation wonderland, but the most popular route has for more than 100 years been the scenic waterway of the Gota-Canal, through lakes and locks and romantic scenery.

From Gothenburg excursions can be made along Sweden's sunny west coast and special archipelago tours include visits to some of the many popular resorts around the city.

From Gothenburg fast modern ferry-boats will take you across from Gothenburg, Sweden, to Frederikshavn, Denmark, from where buses or trains will take you via the Aquavit city of Aalborg to Aarhus, the capital of picturesque Jutland.

From your vacation headquarter in Aarhus, excursions can be made either to the Fairytale Town of Ebeltoft, or to Denmark's scenic Lake District around Silkeborg.

From Aarhus the S-tours will continue via the 1,000 years old town of Ribe to Hans Christian Anderson's native town of Odense on the Fairtale Island of Funen, and on to wonderful Copenhagen, — the shopping paradise of Europe.

The S-tours of Scandinavia is not one specific tour by one specific travel agent. It is a route through the four countries, covering the greatest number of international attractions of interest to the greatest number of people. In other words — a route to remember.

All leading travel agents will therefore be able to arrange for you to travel along this delightful well-planned S-route, — so full of exciting things to see and so beautiful countryside to enjoy.

Remember: S Stands for super — scenic — stupendous — stimulating — sociable — smart — and sparkling Scandinavia!

In last week's column, we discussed how to set up a loose-leaf notebook system to organize your refunding efforts. This week, let's talk about how to make it work.

Let's assume that you have just received your March copy of one of the refunding publications. (These were discussed in an earlier column. The most reliable one is QuickSilver 203 Main St., Milford, N. Y. 13807.)

Take an hour out, and have a second cup of coffee; or wait until you are watching television that evening. Take out your refunding notebook and the new copy of the refunding news.

Enter each item that you are likely to buy for your family's use on the proper page. It is probably best to alphabetize items by the brand name. Using the column headings described last week, enter first the

Scandinavians form Monterey Chapter

The newly formed Monterey Chapter of the American-Scandinavian Foundation will hold its second meeting Sunday evening, Mar. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in La Novia Room, U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey.

The program includes a film on the Vasa Ship which capsized and sank in Stockholm's harbor in 1628 and was raised 333 years later.

The purpose of the 60-year old American-Scandinavian Foundation is the strengthening of bonds between Americans of Scandinavian descent and promoting good cultural relations between the United States and the five Nordic countries through exchange fellowships, scholarships and working traineeships.

A Scandinavian heritage is not a requisite for membership and anyone interested in cultural interchange with Scandinavia is welcome to become a member.

For further information write or call Mrs. John P. Beahan, Box 4104, Carmel (624-2838) or Dr. Loftur Bjarnason, 3 Windsor Rise, Monterey (372-1656.)

Consumer Power

By Yvonne Earnst

expiration date of the offer (6/1/70) — and be sure to mail a few days before that.

Next, enter the source of the address (QU 3-1 for March issue of Quicksilver no. 1.)

In the next column, list the exact product to be purchased and the portion of the package to be sent as proof of purchase (6 BirdsEye 5-Minute vegetable fronts or 6 six ounce Jell-O fronts, one must be specially marked.) Further abbreviation will be necessary to conserve space, but this is an individual decision as to how to do it.

In the column headed "form," you would put an "R" if a form is required to take advantage of the offer. Most refund offers are open to anyone without a form, but some companies, such as Pillsbury, now require forms because of past abuses of refund offers.

After you obtain a form (we will discuss next week how to find forms) you can put an "X" in that spot to show that you have the form, and are ready to send in the proofs of purchase for your refund.

In the next column, put the amount of the refund. That might be a specific sum, such as 50 cents, or it might be for the purchase price, whatever that is. It may be a coupon for a free package of the product, or a coupon for 50 cents on your next purchase of the product.

Use this "amount of refund" entry in the grocery store to help with the decision as to whether or not the purchase is worthwhile. If it means trying an unknown new product which costs 78 cents and the refund is only 30 cents, you may well decide that it is not worthwhile. However, if the refund is for the amount of purchase, it would be much more worthwhile to try the new product.

The next column, "Date Sent," is where you later enter the date you sent in the proofs of purchase. And the last column, "Date Received," is where you enter the date you received your refund through the mail. This last column is your record of how much money your refunding efforts bring you.

A wise refunder puts all the refund money in a bank to save for a special purchase, such as an oil painting from a Carmel gallery.

But whether you consider the refunds you receive as a rebate on your grocery bill, and put the money right back into the grocery budget...or as a bonus you have earned that you can spend on necessities or luxuries, as you wish...you will find refunding well worth your investment of as little as 3 or 4 hours a month.

Please send any questions you have about refunding or any other consumer interest to me c/o Carmel Pine Cone, Box G-1, Carmel, California, 93921.

Rosicrucian group forms local order

The Supreme Grand Lodge of the International Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, has authorized the formation of a local chapter to serve its members on the Monterey Peninsula and vicinity. According to Harry B. Jossel of Monterey, local spokesman for the Order, the new chapter makes a total of more than 125 Rosicrucian chapters in this jurisdiction.

In San Jose, the Rosicrucian Order, patron of art and science, maintains a Science Museum; a Planetarium; an Egyptian-Oriental Museum; and an extensive art gallery.

Weekly meetings will be held in the Monarch Building, 430 Foam Street in Monterey on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m.

The general public may obtain further information about the Rosicrucian Order and local chapter by contacting Harry B. Jossel at 375-5600 or Lenore McCoy at 375-1425.

Illustrative art is featured at P.G. Art Center

The Pacific Grove Art Center announces the new exhibit in Gallery 1: "The Illustrative Arts." The exhibit will run from Friday Mar. 13 until Apr. 10, and will be open Tuesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This exhibit will include the varied aspects of illustration, including: book illustration, advertising illustration, fashion illustration, cartoon illustration, and medical illustration.

It has long been the belief of the Art Center that there is a misunderstanding when it comes to the illustrative arts, because for some reason the fact that the illustrative arts have been used in commercial fashion and have been tabbed as commercial art, people have been lead to believe that this is a lesser form of art. This exhibit will hope to open some people's minds to the fact that the illustrative arts should be Albert Wascher has studied at the California College of Arts and Crafts, oil painting with Robert Rishell and watercolor with David Granno.

The Seaside Art Commission invites the public to see this exhibit at the Seaside City Hall Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The exhibit will run throughout the month of March in the main hallways of the Art Center.

shows at the San Francisco Museum, Eastman House in New York, the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art 5th Annual Invitational, and many others.

He is also represented in the permanent collections of Eastman House, Adrian College, The Oakland Museum of Art, and the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

The exhibit will be open to the public for viewing Tuesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. until the end of March.

Sam Colburn holds one man show

Millbrae--city in search of its past--seeks photos.

A city in search of its past, Millbrae, sixteen miles south of San Francisco, has inaugurated a contest for old photos of its people, its buildings, and in general, its life in the days that are

Carmel-by-the-Chili-Bean

If common interests are the factor in the true integration that the experts say they are, a Carmel Mexican restaurant should receive some kind of Americanization award.

Among its patrons on a recent Saturday were a local Filipino American couple with their four-year-old son, who rolled up tortillas like an expert; a dressy ladies' luncheon party of beautifully mannered black college students, quite at home among the tostadas; a touring family with three teen-agers, all speaking German, with words like "chili relleno" thrown in—properly pronounced; and three middle-aged Chinese American couples, smartly enough dressed to be from San Francisco, who ordered guacamole and enchiladas like old favorites.

Co-sponsored by the San Mateo County Historical Society and the city's Beautification Commission, cash prizes are to be awarded for these old mementoes.

Interest in the project was aroused when the historic 16 Mile House, a building purported to date back to the 1850's, was slated to be demolished, to be replaced on its El Camino Real site by a commercial building. At the most recent City Council meeting, Mayor Lewis J. Grasberger reported that letters had been received from as far away as Chicago, pleading for the salvation of the city's primary vintage landmark. This was encouraging to a newly formed citizens group actively working to save the building.

All information leading to the history of the building, as well as other historical items of the area, are needed since such records are sparse. All photos and items should be accompanied with as much detail as possible, including name and address of donor, and addressed to the Beautification Commission, City Hall, Millbrae.

Rating system strengthened

The unprecedented voluntary system for rating films for parents and children, which the motion picture industry launched a little over a year ago, has proved useful to a substantial majority of movie goers and has been strengthened and clarified, spokesmen for the Motion Picture Association of America announced.

Only objective of the system is to inform parents about the suitability of films for children. Ratings are not for adults, nor for the artistic quality of movies. The system does not recommend, ban or censor.

Principal change to go into effect Mar. 1 will be substitution of GP—"All ages admitted. Parental guidance suggested." The "M" for "mature" tended to create public confusion and misunderstanding, a survey showed.

Another difference will raise from 16 to 17 the age limit for category "R"—"Restricted. Under 17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian."

Other ratings remain the same. "G" translates "All Ages admitted. General audiences." "X" means "No one under 17 admitted. (Age limit may vary in certain areas.)"

The Carmel Pine Cone
Carmel, Calif.

I am writing to tell you of our appreciation concerning the article honoring George Washington (during the Feb. 22 week), by Col. De Camp.

It is so rare these days that we hear about the nation's heroes, that we forget the cost of our freedom.

Thank you for taking the responsibility of reminding us again. The article prompted me to dust off a volume of history and read more about this great man. I hope the Pine Cone will make it a tradition to make our great men come alive once more, especially on their holidays.

Sincerely,
Olivia Heider

To the Editor:

Thank you for printing the fine article on George Washington by C. Austin De Camp in your Feb. 19 edition. You were the only paper on the Peninsula to commemorate this important day in such an outstanding way. Col. De Camp is a patriot whose understanding of our history gives him a great insight when it comes to our problems of today. Would that there were more of his kind!

Yours truly,

Moratorium Cost

Dear Editor:

It is hoped that the "silent majority" will become less silent when events such as the following are disclosed—

The three-day Vietnam Moratorium in Washington, November, 1969, cost YOU, the taxpayers more than $1.5 million and cost private business interests an estimated $240,000. A summary of the Moratorium is as follows: 606 injured; 361 arrested; $240,000 damage to 503 private buildings; $6,000 damage to 76 law enforcement vehicles; $12,000 damage to parks; $936,099 military operation costs; $473,776 law enforcement overtime pay; $38,497 Department of Justice support personnel; $91,761 General Services Administration; $8,500 debris removal.

Let the "silent majority" become vocal in order that events like this Moratorium will be curtailed in the future.

Sincerely,
C. C. Mosley

TO BE ALONE

*To be alone, the gift of kings,
The seed of silence to me clings,
The woodlands hear,
as sadness sings,
My thoughts are far away,
Remembering a girl I knew,
Who touched my life,
and then withdrew,
The winds of change then strongly blew,
To carry me away,
with the night.*

*To be alone; what can explain?
A falling drop after the rain?
Or all the things I must contain,
Unto myself;
The butterfly above my hand,
Slips through my fingers
like the sand,
Of Time that passes as I stand,
And watch the evening sun, going down.*

*Within a Wintergarden jar,
I chase the yonder shooting star,
And hear a promise from afar,
"All things will change,"
So I'll await the coming dawn,
And all the new things
it will spawn,
A king, alone, is just a pawn,
Within this game we all must play.*

GRASSES IN THE RAIN
*All the grasses gently blowing,
Bow before the summer rain,
Different grasses blowing, bowing in each separate field and lane.
Bearded oats grow by the roadside,
deer grass near a fringe of pine.
Starry blue grass in a cluster,
by wild vetch and columbine.
Reed grass in the river marshes, broome grass on the lonely dunes.
All are blowing,
all are bowing as the rain wind gently croons.*

YARE HAWK

*Yare Hawk, the dark prince,
Caresses air as men do skin.
The glide, the flow, the skim,
The spiral stroke o' wing,
Envelops her as she envelops him;
While mysteries of the moon
Perfume the paramour
the shoreless sky.*

JOY IN A JUMP OF YEARS
*When one is young one knows that joy
Means pink for girl and blue for boy;
That violet scents a green—clumped high,
Bold scarlet accents sunset's sky.
Joy, like wine mellowed by age,
Heeds the subtlety, wisdom o' sage,
Rapier wit, a well-done score;
Love's return to its welcome wide door.
At end of arching life's spent gold—
Joy is warmth after numbing cold;
New-sparked caring for each little thing,
Tendered sharing of real worth to sing.*

Comtesse Clover de Berard

I BELIEVE IN LITTLE FOLKS
*One day, alone, in the low foothills,
I stopped to catch the sound
Of woodland elves that must abound
Beneath the oaks.
I believe in little folks.*

*A daisy nodded; there was not a breeze!
And then I heard it: a tiny sneeze.

Just Right for Spring

With our March having roared in like a lion, we're expecting it to retreat like a lamb. This gives us the theme for our favorite meat...lamb and more lamb.

There's a sort of startled surprise that spring is really reappearing. This is more pronounced back East than here on our benevolent Peninsula. There is the same pleasurable feeling everywhere, an expectancy of what's going on outside. New peas, fresh asparagus, tiny potatoes...sunlight after the recent rains...springing lamblets.

Many are the ways of preparing spring lamb. Shoulder chops, either blade or round bone, are good, satisfying pieces with plenty of succulent meat surrounding the bone. The latter gives a sweetness, a breath of pastoral spring. Always leave the bone in. If too fat, cut off some. We're stressing lamb, not mutton.

Shoulder Lamb Chops with Okra

Four shoulder lamb chops, one inch thick; 1/2 cup chopped green spring onions with tops; 2 T salad oil; 2 peeled and seeded tomatoes; salt, pepper, rubbed sage, basil, thyme leaves; 2 slices lemon with peel; 12 fresh whole baby okra. Serves four.

In large skillet, saute onion in oil briefly; remove. Saute chops in same skillet and oil until golden on both sides; drain off excess drippings. Mix rest of items except okra. Add to lamb and onions. Add some water and A-1 sauce. Cover and simmer until chops are fork tender. Add the tiny fresh okra, washed, the last 15 minutes. Serve with hot white rice; the pan juices in a separate bowl very well heated; pickled cucumber slices.

Pineapple-Stuffed Leg of Lamb

One small fresh pineapple, peeled and cored; 1/4 cup butter; 1/4 cup Rhine wine; 2 cups bread croutons; 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or almonds; 2 scallions, chopped; 1 t. seasoned salt; 1/2 t. ground ginger; 1/4 t. pepper; 5 lb. boned Spring leg of lamb. Serves 6 bountifully.

In large bowl combine chopped pineapple with all items except meat. Stuff the boned lamb; skewer or tie with string. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in a 325 F. oven 3 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 175 F. for medium doneness.

Many people abuse lamb. To serve it at its very best, do not overcook.

Take a cue from the French...their agneau is always pink inside and crisply brown on the outside and they use herbs to bring out the delicacy of fresh lamb. Covering the roast with fresh mint gives a subtle taste. Do this from the start; if it commences to burn, brush it off. Garlic, rosemary and thyme also accentuate this special offering. Tiny new potatoes steamed in their scrubbed skins, dotted with butter and chopped fresh parsley; new green peas cooked with chopped lettuce hearts or fresh asparagus and Hollandaise sauce.

English Grill

Lamb chops grilled with other meats and fruits gives this dish a piquant flavor. It is a favorite company dinner as it looks very gala yet is simple to prepare. Ask your meat man to bone thick lamb chops, roll each around a lamb kidney and wrap with bacon.

Use large grill or broiler rack. Add ingredients in this way: 1. Season chops with garlic salt and cracked pepper. Prick link sausages to keep them from rolling. 3. Brush halved par-boiled peeled white onions with butter. 4. Do the same with large fresh mushroom caps, sprinkled with salt. Cut unpeeled firm tomatoes in half; brush with butter. 5. Broil 15 min. per side for medium done chops. Serve with mint jelly or hot mint sauce (made from chopped fresh mint, mild vinegar and sugar to taste.) Start the chops 15 minutes before other items.

This popular grill is almost a complete meal. Serve it with tender young greens: spinach, dandelion greens, Bibb or butter lettuce hearts, watercress tossed with oil and vinegar and crumbled Roquefort, salt and pepper. Artichoke bottoms with chopped hard cooked egg may also be included. Small hard rolls are good and a hot apple pie and sharp cheddar cheese are perfect for a grand finale.

Mock Venison

Marinate a 5 lb. shoulder of lamb with the following mixture: 2 t. salt, 3 garlic cloves, minced; 1 onion, minced; 1/3 cup minced fresh parsley; 1/4 t. rosemary; 2 whole cloves; 2 cups red wine; 1 t. freshly ground black pepper; 1/2 cup oil; 1 bay leaf. Refrigerate 24 hours, turning once in a while. Keep covered. Drain, reserving marinade. Place meat on rack in open roasting pan; roast 30 min. per lb. at 325 F. Baste with marinade. Serve with a sauce made by thickening marinade with balls of butter and flour kneaded together.

Rack of Lamb de Luxe

Place on rack in open roasting pan a 4 lb. lamb rib roast. Cook at 400 F. for 30 min. This is definitely a glamorous dish, but is best when cooked quickly and served rare. For those who prefer their lamb more well done, just continue until roasted to your taste. Serve with browned potatoes, green peas mixed with pearl onions, chutney, mint sauce or jelly. Fresh fruits and cheeses, hard crackers. Simple and speedy; also splendid. Two racks of lamb fastened together is known as a crown roast as both shape and price signify. Fit for royalty or expanded expense accounts. Maybe we should have hamburgers instead.

Double Deal: Let the Extra Income Pay for Your Carmel Charmer

HALF BLOCK SOUTH OF OCEAN AVENUE

Two cute little Carmel cottages, remodeled to a fare-thee-well, on adjoining lots. Use one, rent one, rent both occasionally. Ideal spot to build a fine retirement home later when you want to be a block from the library and everything in town, and a couple of blocks to the beach. Priced at $34,950 each.

UPPER TRAIL, WITH A HIGH-UP VIEW OF EVERYTHING

Very attractive and very well built stucco, shake roof, offering a one bedroom home with fine view plus a complete apartment on a lower level and entirely separate from the house. Seller wants to lease back main house for $175; use the apartment yourself for weekends, and later take over the main floor. Priced very properly at $39,500.

SANTA FE, JUST A FEW BLOCKS FROM TOWN

One of the most interesting duos we have had for a long time, an older property returned to new condition by very imaginative and meticulous owners. All the charming details you love in the older houses around here, but otherwise everything is brand new. Price $43,500 and you'll always hate yourself if you don't see it.

OCEAN AVENUE CORNER

In the first block after the commercial zoning ends, going toward the ocean, two older homes on corner lot. It is said that the best real estate investments are based on LOCATION - LOCATION - LOCATION - This is it! Price $75,000.

TWO NEW HOUSES, SIDE BY SIDE

Located close in on Santa Fe, south of Ocean, you can have them separately at $39,500 and $42,500 - or take both and let one be an investment while you live in the other. Very pleasant canyon settings in secluded, non-tourist location, yet just a few blocks from everything. Investigate!

ONE-ACRE MINIMUM RANCHO RIO VISTA SITE? We have one, half covered with oaks for well under market value and it is an easy-to-build-on short-driveway site.

SEARCHING FOR AN EQUESTRIAN CENTER? We have one of the best in the Valley. Come by our office or write and we'll discuss the details.

A VIEW HOME? THE OWNERS WILL CARRY $40,000 at 7½% on a 25-year amortization basis with the balance due and payable in five years. The principal and interest will cost you $295.60 per month and you'll have the five years during which you can select the time to refinance. It is a two-bedroom, two-bath, den or third bedroom home up on Martin Road with an excellent view of Point Lobos. The owners consider an apartment a more appropriate dwelling during this phase of their journey through life and are willing to sacrifice their home to a family within a two-bedroom requirement who can easily afford the $55,000 acquisition fee.

AN OCEAN-FRONT BUILDING SITE? We have a 2.9-acre site right on the ocean with underground utilities already installed. It is located just north of Rocky Point Restaurant eleven miles South of Carmel on Hwy. 1. The owners, who have decided to build at Clear Lake, will carry the 1st TD for 8% for five years on a negotiable amortization basis with a reasonable initial deposit. The site is valued at $51,000. Ask your broker to show you MLS # 3312. Of course we'll be delighted to show you the property if you have not selected a broker.

Things are beginning to get a little warm here in Sacramento as most of you know and this time I am not relating to the local weather conditions.

It's not a healthy condition when a couple of Senators with years of service in Sacramento and who have known each other for many years fail to greet or acknowledge the other's presence in the small confines of the capitol elevator.

The Senate appears to have its problems at the moment but as in most cases I think the end results will be more strict regulations and laws concerning campaign funding and reporting to the general public, who have every right to know at all times.

I can't help but feel that all members of the Senate, regardless of which particular faction they happen to be on at the moment, will be glad to have a set of rules to go by, so that the incident we have all seen on TV and read about in our local newspapers will never again need be and issue of concern to the legislator or the public.

Here in the Assembly an interesting and revealing incident came out the other day and as it effects all of us I thought you would be interested.

It seems the money allocated to build our freeways is now proportioned so that the 13 countries in Southern California receive 55% of the total amount. Through the one-man-one-vote procedure enacted into law a few years ago, the Assemblymen south of the Tehachapi mountains began to realize that they had more Assemblymen in total numbers than the number of Assemblymen that represented all 45 Northern California counties which includes our own Monterey county.

They asked approval of a bill which would give Southern California 60% of the total monies for freeways and leave us in Northern California only 40% of the total money to be distributed. Their principal argument in favor of such a split was the fact that they could prove that 61.6% of the population, 60.3% of the assessed valuation and 61% of the motor vehicles were in the 13 Southern California counties.

Our principal argument in opposition was that Los Angeles has done nothing about bonding themselves for a special rapid transit district to help solve their problem and more freeways would just add to the dangerous smog problem which is already forcing the evacuation of almost 25,000 people a year from that area due to emphysema, bronchitis, and so on.

However, there are not enough of us in the 45 northern counties, and the 13 Southern California counties mustered 43 votes and, in an 80 man legislature every day arithmetic reveals to us the fact that Southern California in a strictly geographical issue, now has the votes.

If this measure gets through the Senate Transportation committee and the Senate also, the end result will be an even further slowing up of much needed freeway construction here in our own Monterey county.

You have all heard the old saying, "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em." Maybe our next best move is to try and move the southern district a little further north where Monterey county would be considered part of the southern district and we could share in the 60% road allocation instead of a portion of the 40% recommended for the Northern California counties.

Enough for now—
BOB WOOD
